THE CUISINE

CHEF TAKIS PAPAYIANNIS

The talented Chef Takis Papayiannis brings the best of Mediterranean cooking to every dish he creates. Born and raised in Greece, he trained in Athens at the Culinary Academy of Greece where his mentor inspired him with his love of culinary art and introduced him to the works of greats like Guy Savoy, Marco Pierre White and Alain Ducasse.

A key feature in his menus is fresh seafood. "Mediterranean cuisine combined with Asian ingredients is very interesting, playful and well-rounded," says Chef Papayiannis. "I always try to provide our guests with my best. I enjoy cooking chic dishes with a touch of luxury, the kind of flavours that remind someone of tastes they enjoyed when they were younger or beloved recipes prepared with a mother's tenderness."

Popular dishes might include freshly caught lobster baked with hollandaise sauce served with sweet potatoes and green apple, or healthy salads packed with flavour, such as scallop, tuna, tomato and fresh herbs finished with a zingy lime dressing. Whatever the mood, Chef Papayiannis always rises to the occasion whether he's catering laid-back brunches with classic favourites or formal dining and celebratory feasts.
