THE YACHT

Measuring 72.6 impressive metres, the ultra sleek Quantum of Solace was delivered in 2012 and, at the time, she was the largest Turkish-built yacht ever launched. She is also the sister ship to Talisman C but was commissioned with some key differences in mind – chiefly a redesigned steel and aluminium superstructure resulting in smoother lines thanks to H2 Yacht Design.

Quantum's design is sure to turn heads as her shape is unique. MCA compliant, with a maximum speed of 17 knots and ability to comfortably cruise at 15 knots, she sails anywhere from the Med to the Caribbean.

Her beautiful interior is classic yet modern, with accommodation for 14 guests (maximum 12 for charter) in seven cabins, six of which are on the main deck, and the full beam master suite with balconies on either side on the upper deck.

SPECIAL FEATURES

- Full beam master suite has balconies on either side

- Elevator for easy deck access
- Stunning swimming pool & beach club with gym
- Inflatable waterpark, great for kids of all ages

CAPTAINS: EDWARD CHILD & DEREK PAYNE

Working on rotation, South African Captain Derek Payne and British-born Captain Ed Child lead Quantum of Solace's passionate crew of 18.

Captain Derek joined Quantum of Solace in 2016, and uses the insights and experiences gained from living on three continents to create unforgettable experiences, undertaking numerous owners' trips and charters on both sides of the Atlantic.

Captain Ed is a keen competitive sailor who has worked on superyachts for the past 16 years. He has cruised extensively through the Mediterranean, the Caribbean, the Bahamas and the east coast of the USA, on yachts ranging from 40 to 60 metres. "Each and every day we go above and beyond to make sure guests have the most memorable time on board," he says, and guests can expect attention to detail from both captains every step of the way.

THE EXPERIENCE

Characterised by generous living spaces inside and out, including a double height atrium, Quantum of Solace is also host to a wide range of amenities.

There is an elevator that goes from the lower level all the way to the bridge and a fabulous swimming pool and beach club area with gymnasium.

Head down to the garage and you will find an exciting collection of toys and tenders including the latest hover boards and an inflatable waterpark.

In the mood for something a bit more relaxing? Quantum of Solace boasts a full beam spa area on the lowest level with a steam room, spa pool, and doors that open up to water level. Qualified therapists will make you feel pampered like never before.

The 18 crew members on board Quantum of Solace are also highly experienced. "We're a fun but very professional crew", says Captain Edward Child.

"Our collective experience as yachties means we're well-positioned to go above and beyond, not only providing impeccable service but sharing our insider knowledge of the best secret coves to explore, the best restaurants to visit and the most exciting way to spend each day."

THE CUISINE

CHEF DIETER CURTH

The cuisine on board Quantum of Solace is the creation of Dieter Curth, who has been passionate about cooking and travel his whole life. After training in his native Germany, Dieter worked in several world-renowned hotels in Munich, the cruise liner MS Vistafjord and later Cunard's MS Sea Goddess II, cruising Asia, China and Vietnam.

During this time, he learned the art of pastry making and studied at the Californian Sushi Academy of LA before joining his first superyacht in 1994.

"The food on board Quantum of Solace is a mix of classic and modern menus as well as light buffets with fresh ingredients," says Dieter. "In the Mediterranean, the fish, seafood and herbs are the best, and in the Caribbean, I prefer using bright, exotic fruits like star fruit and passion fruit, and freshly caught conch or lobster."

His signature dish? "My all time favourite is a pasta dish I served on a charter. It was fresh tagliatelle with yellow pepper sauce, Parma ham and walnut pesto. The guests on board liked it so much that we ended up serving three plates to everyone! Safe to say it was an all-round winner!"
